A non-stop walk across the continent at Panama—between meals—breakfast and supper—ocean to ocean, and bath in both, in one and the same day, eleven hours. Such is the astonishing record of Charles H. Brown of Warren street, Norwich.Mr. Brown has just returned from his seventh trip to Panama, and fifteenth crossing of the ocean. He like himself to the English Baron Faulkenburg, one of Portia's faint hearted lovers, whom Portia says, "I like him not; how oddly he is suited!
He bought his doublet in Italy, his hose in France, his bonnet in Germany and his behavior everywhere." Mr.
Brown dislikes the slur and name of faint heartedness, and in any sense a faint heartedness, whose motto is often, "Anywhere but here." He is too much a home-body for anything of the kind.Mr. Brown did a long contemplated stunt which was one of his primary objects of this visit. Record walks have been an ambition and a craze, of late everywhere in Panama. He walked tide-water to tide-water in record time and did the trick and lived to tell of it. The Panama Star and Herald spoke of it as a record feat and one that had never been accomplished or surpassed, unless possibly by some young man or an athlete. Mr. Brown was nervous to it by the thought of the humorous and spirited slogan, "Be like Brown and Balboa—1513-1523."Four centuries look down on this trivial feat and coincidence.He took practically the same route and course of the Spanish explorer, Balboa, 1513, when he crossed with a party of Spaniards and Indians in fourteen days. Mr. Brown passedBalboa Hill in sight of the Pacific where, when the great explorer stood and first caught sight of the waters, he instinctively fell down upon his knees and gave thanks to Almighty God, while the assembled company—Spaniards and Indians—led by the accompanying priest, sang in unison the Te Deum and Laudamus. Days after, when he reached the land and South Sea he rushed down waist deep in the waters with drawn sword in his right hand and the Castilian flag in the other, and claimed the land and all its islands and boundaries for the King of Spain. Mr.
Brown's walking stunt brought him in close and intimate observance of and contact with beautiful scenery, the amazing tropical growths and wonders everywhere.The Great Canal, the Zone and all its great and marvelous accomplishments, are not the whole thing down there. There is a world of beauty in Panama—once the deadliest spot, now the healthiest and most comfortable.
Uncle Sam spent twenty million dollars in sanitation.Mr. Brown was gone twenty-four days on his trip, spent a week ashore in Panama, visited all the Canal Zone, walked everywhere, saw everything; spent a day in Port au Prince, Haiti; spent a day or more in the beautiful island Taboga out in the Pacific.The lure of the tropics is no better than while sailing over the beautiful blue Caribbean Sea under the starlight and the evening stars are an enchantment. The gorgeous coloring and sun-set glories are indescribable. Milder moons in Paradise the night—nights, such as might shame the fairest day.FRENCH MEMORIAL DIPLOMAS ARRIVE FOR NORWICH MENThe first consignment of French memorial diplomas to be presented to the nearest of kind of Norwicheans died or were killed while serving in the United States navy was received Wednesday by the secretary of Robert O. Fletcher post, No. 4, American Legion. This consignment, which consists of diplomas, came from the naval recruiting station at New Haven, and other consignments are expected from the naval station before long.A complete list of those who are to be presented memorial diplomas by French high commission through Fletcher post of the American Legion at the public meeting in the Davis theatre next Sunday afternoon will be published in The Bulletin within a day or so.The diplomas are very attractive and will no doubt be highly valued by those who are to receive them. On the diploma, which is about 12 by 15 inches in size, appears a group of centenarians on which is engraved in French the following dedication above the signature of the president of the French republic, Raymond Poincare:TO THE MEMORY OF
OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.WHO GAVE HIS LIFE
DURING THE GREAT WAR
FOR FRANCE'S HONOR.THE PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC (Signature).The principal figure of the group symbolizes the soul and spirit of the American people, which helped France maintain alive the flame of the torch of liberty and justice.The sword is not in the scabbard but ready at any moment to protect freedom and justice. The eagle, symbolized—who are symbolized in the group to the left by a mother, holding her baby to her breast—and to insure freedom and justice to the coming generations, represented by the figures of the kneeling boy, praying and thanking God for deliverance.At the right the figure of a man, chained and bound, symbolizes the spirit of evil and the victory over enemies. Also at the right, crowning the spirit of America, stands "Liberty," who rejoices with the old veterans.The principal figure, symbolizing the armies, who are always ready to fight for the good of humanity.The winged figure, flying over the group, trumpeting to the world, the great triumph in which the United States participated. The American eagle, perched on the flag, symbolizes the zealously, and stands ready to swoop in case our enemies again endeavor to disturb the peace of the world, so that the peace of the world, soThe entire group is framed by a border of oak and laurel leaves which are always discerned to the victors.At the foot of the centenary the flag of France and America, and the flag of the United States are joined together by a wreath, which symbolizes the mark of gratitude and homage which France pays to our sons who have given their lives for liberty and justice.The lines engraved on the wall behind the group are taken from one of Victor Hugo's famous poems, and when translated read:Those who die, die plausibly for their country have the right that at their graves the people come to pray."BIRTHDAY PLAN TO HELP FARM BUREAUCards of invitation have been sent out to a birthday tea Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gerson on Washington street. The proceeds from this tea go towards the Norwich quota of the $1,000 that has to be raised in New London county each year in order to get the federal and state appropriations for the work of the farm and home bureau. There are only 37 women members listed in New London county, and this year it is greatly desired to increase the number of members to show the interest of the women of the county in backing the work. There has been generous response in the past in gifts towards the work—and those are always welcome—but the farm bureau is anxious to have more members who can enjoy its benefits and perhaps through their solution of individual problems in home or farm work help others.Any ladies who are interested are asked to send their names and the annual membership fee of $1 to Miss Audrey Gerson, town clerk, care of the women's committee, who will send a receipt.If those ladies attending the tea on

GENERAL COAL COMMISSIONNew York, Feb. 18.—Immediate creation of a permanent general coal commission was advocated before the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers today by Eugene McAuliffe, president of the Union Colliery Company of St. Louis.
Mr. McAuliffe said, he said, of seven members "one representing the mine operators, one the miners, two competent accredited mining engineers and three representatives of the public, each with equal voting power, with a tenure of office of seven years, the chairmanship rotating annually."He said the commission should study social, recreational and educational privileges afforded mine workers, progress made in the installation of mechanical, labor-saving devices and, in fact, "should investigate every feature of the mining industry and the related transportation problems."Met Dr. Ussher in Armenia.
In a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post appears an article by Eleanor Franklin Egan in which she describes her travels through Armenia. In the article Miss Egan speaks of meeting and being received by Dr.
Clarence D. Ussher, who is a medical missionary at Van, in Turkish Armenia. Dr. Ussher paid a recent visit to Norwich and his wife was a former Norwich woman, the daughter of Rev.
